

Forms & Attributes – Add Custom Grid Headers for Extended Attributes

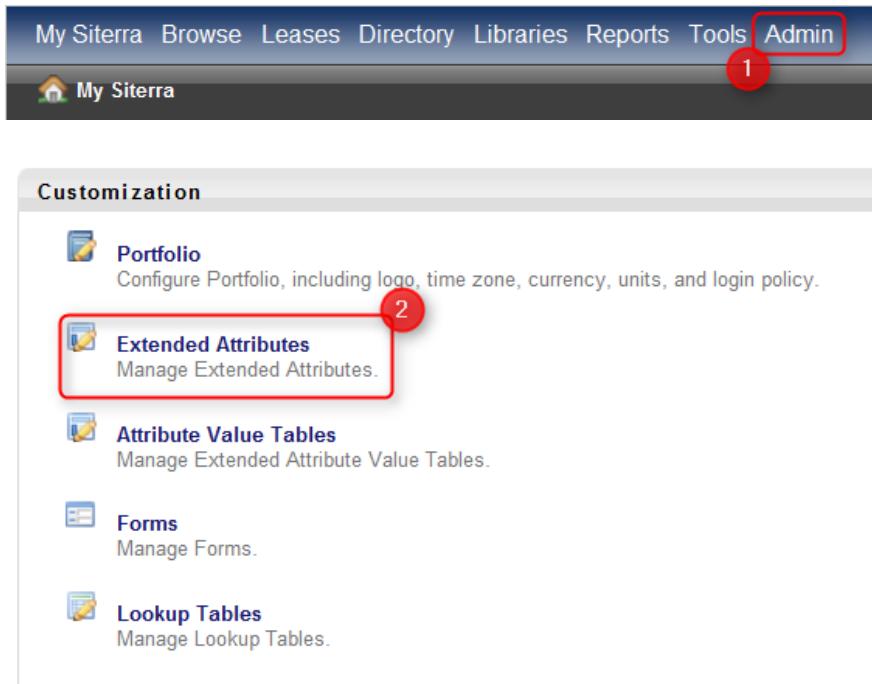

Question:

How are Custom Grid Headers created for an Extended Attribute?

Answer:

Attributes can sometimes have very confusing and long names, which might be required for a specific naming structure. To make grids within Siterra more readable, a Custom Grid Header can replace the column name for this attribute.

The screenshot shows the Siterra Admin interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links: My Siterra, Browse, Leases, Directory, Libraries, Reports, Tools, and Admin. The Admin link is highlighted with a red box and a red number '1' above it. Below the navigation bar is a dark header bar with a house icon and the text 'My Siterra'. The main content area is titled 'Customization'. It contains five items, each with an icon and a link: 'Portfolio' (pencil icon), 'Extended Attributes' (pencil icon), 'Attribute Value Tables' (pencil icon), 'Forms' (grid icon), and 'Lookup Tables' (grid icon). The 'Extended Attributes' link is highlighted with a red box and a red number '2' above it.

Choose the category the EA is in (1), then find the EA to have a Custom Grid Header applied to. Once located, click the blue and white menu button to the left (2) and select “Edit” (3).
